FOCUS OF LUNCH AND LEARN IS WELLNESS FOR WOMEN, INSIDE AND OUT

The American Sexual Health Association estimates that 98,000 women will be diagnosed with a gynecologic cancer this year. September is Gynecologic Cancer Awareness Month and Mitzie-Ann Davis, M.D., MPH, FACOG, a gynecologic oncologist at Piedmont Fayette Hospital, will address awareness of the different types of gynecologic cancers and their symptoms at a lunch and learn program from 12 to 1:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 26.

“The earlier that cancer can be diagnosed and treated, the better the chance for successful treatment,” said Dr. Davis. “Women should be in tune with their bodies so that they can spot changes, and they should continue to get regular physicals and gynecological examinations on an annual basis.”

Many gynecologic cancers share symptoms and some can’t be detected by a screening. The best way to empower women to protect themselves from these types of cancers is to provide education.

Dr. Davis has been with Piedmont Fayette Hospital for just over three years. In that time, she has become close to her patients and the community. The luncheon on Sept. 26 is a way to connect with community members as well as re-connect with current and former patients.

The luncheon will take place from 12 to 1:30 p.m. in The Thomas F. Chapman Family Cancer Wellness Center at Piedmont Fayette. Space for this free event is limited. Please call 770.719.5860 to register.

CANCER WELLNESS PARTNERS WITH FAYETTE COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY

Tucked just inside The Thomas F. Chapman Family Cancer Wellness Center at Piedmont Fayette Hospital is The Rene Christensen Library. Last year, Kirsten Soriano, Cancer Wellness program coordinator, began looking for ways to make it a better resource for patients and caregivers. Soriano connected with Christeen Snell, the director of the Fayette County Public Library, and Gina Martin, the public services librarian, and the ideas began flowing.

In addition to providing more books, including popular fiction, self-help and Spanish language titles, the library also shares Gale Health and Wellness, an incredible resource providing access to medical journals, periodicals, reference materials and more.

“This has been an incredibly popular and valuable tool,” said Martin. “We even had one doctor tell us that he uses the system because it is faster and provides such great information.”

The library stocks books in the lending library by the fish tanks, as well as on a comfort cart that takes books to patients and caregivers.

“We are so grateful that the Fayette County library is always looking for more ways to connect with the community,” said Soriano.

The library lists their upcoming events just outside the room and encourages people to continue to stay engaged with the community. Learn more about the library at www.fayetterecountyga.gov/public_library
The golf course at Flat Creek Country Club will be filled on Monday, Oct. 7 for the 19th annual Piedmont Fayette Hospital Auxiliary Golf Classic. The event is scheduled for a 10 a.m. shotgun start, but registration, a continental breakfast, the practice range and a putting contest are open to golfers at 8 a.m.

Proceeds from this year’s tournament, The Drive to End Cancer, will support ongoing programming in The Thomas F. Chapman Family Cancer Wellness Center at Piedmont Fayette, as well as other services for oncology patients receiving care from the hospital’s comprehensive cancer care program.

In conjunction with the golf tournament, presenting sponsor BMW of South Atlanta is dedicating the month of October as the UL-TIMATE Drive to End Cancer. For every BMW sold during the month, BMW will donate $100 to Cancer Wellness at Piedmont Fayette.

“The annual golf tournament is a great way for the community to come together and support Piedmont Fayette,” said Amby Jordan, president of the Piedmont Fayette Hospital Auxiliary. “We are thrilled that this year’s tournament once again has a focus on helping the many cancer services offered at the hospital for patients and their families.”

The tournament is a four-person scramble and golfers will receive an appreciation gift and goodie bag, breakfast, lunch, refreshments and snacks, as well as a putting contest and auction. There will also be contests for Closest to Pin, Longest Drive and Most Accurate Drive.

Sponsors for this year’s tournament include Brasfield & Gorrie, SunTrust Bank, MetroAtlanta Ambulance Service, Bank of America/Merrill Lynch, JP Morgan, Meadows & Ohly, Pace Lynch, Robert Lenox, Warner, Hooper & Ramsey, Bachelor & Kimball, Randolph Williamson, Arbor Terrace, and Wendy’s Peachtree City and Fayetteville.

The deadline to register as a sponsor or player is Friday, Sept. 20. The number of spots available for golfers is limited. Contact Paige Muh at 770.719.5758 for more information or register online at piedmont.org/pfhgolf.

If you like playing golf, come tee it up for Thomas F. Chapman Family Cancer Wellness.

PROSTATE CANCER SUPPORT GROUP GETS A COOKING LESSON

The Prostate Cancer Support Group meets the fourth Tuesday of every month at 7 p.m. in The Thomas F. Chapman Family Cancer Wellness Center at Piedmont Fayette Hospital. Facilitated by Jim O’Hara, the group is a valuable tool for men dealing with prostate cancer and their families. Their meeting on Sept. 24 will be a special one as My Chef Nancy Jaworski, along with dietitian Lisa Stillman, will lead a “tailgate” cooking demonstration that supports prostate health.
September is Gynecologic Cancer Awareness Month and October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month. Piedmont Fayette’s Walk with a Doc events for both months will feature local doctors addressing these topics.

Mitzie Ann Davis, M.D., MPH, FACOG believes that area women need more awareness of how to detect and treat different types of cancers. Dr. Davis will lead September’s Walk with a Doc event on Saturday, Sept. 21 and will discuss the signs and symptoms of several gynecologic cancers because early detection is often key to survival.

“The earlier that cancer can be diagnosed and treated, the better the chance for successful treatment,” said Dr. Davis. “Women should be in tune with their bodies so that they can spot changes, and they should continue to get regular physicals and gynecological examinations.”

Breast Surgeon Melanie Whitten, M.D. will lead October’s Walk with a Doc on Saturday, Oct. 19. Her goal is for all walkers, men and women, to understand why so much significance is placed on breast cancer awareness.

“The Center for Disease Control and Infection Prevention states that over 237,000 women are diagnosed with breast cancer each year,” said Dr. Whitten. “Early detection is the key to treating and surviving breast cancer. If detected early enough, some tumors do not require chemotherapy or radiation treatment.”

During the walk, Dr. Whitten will discuss annual breast examinations, mammography, and advances in imaging.

The walks start at the Peachtree City Farmer’s Market at Aberdeen Village and travel to Battery Park and back (approximately 40 minutes). Pre-registration for the event is encouraged. To register visit piedmont.org/walkwithadoc or call 877.527.3712 (toll free). Please arrive by 8:15 a.m. – the walk will begin promptly at 8:30 a.m.

There will be a Walk with a Doc event on the third Saturday of every month through November of this year. For more information about Piedmont’s Walk with a Doc program, visit piedmont.org/walkwithadoc.

The cooking demonstrations at The Thomas F. Chapman Family Cancer Wellness Center are among the more popular programs offered each month. Last year, the cooking demonstrations got a big boost when doctors began to drop in to cook their favorite dishes. Nicole Sroka, M.D., a breast surgeon at Piedmont FayetteHospital, will host a Cook with a Doc program on Friday, Oct. 4. The focus of this demonstration is to put a healthy spin on decadent family favorites.
Gabriel Melvin, a rising freshman at Starr’s Mill High School, built a bookcase for the Outpatient Infusion Center at Piedmont Fayette Hospital as part of his Eagle Scout project. Gabriel has been a Boy Scout with Troop 175 in Peachtree City for nearly four years and is hoping to reach Eagle Scout status within the next few months. An aspiring cardiac surgeon with a strong interest in healthcare, Gabriel was alerted to the need for a new bookcase by Gina Martin of the Fayette County Public Library and got to work this summer. In addition to learning some construction skills, Gabriel also learned some valuable soft skills as he communicated with representatives from different departments throughout the hospital and in the community. The bookcase is a huge hit with the staff of the infusion center and their patients.
