

We are committed to protecting the privacy of your protected health information. Our Joint Notice of Privacy Practices describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please review it carefully.

This Joint Notice of Privacy Practices Explains:

- How we may use and disclose your health information in the course of providing treatment and services to you.
- What rights you have with respect to your health information. These include the right:
 - To inspect and obtain a copy of your health information.
 - To request that we amend health information in your records.
 - To receive an accounting of certain disclosures we have made of your health information.
 - To request that we restrict the use and disclosure of your health information to your health plan.
 - To request confidential communications about your health information.
 - To receive a paper copy of this notice.
- How to file a complaint if you believe your privacy rights have been violated.

If you have questions about this document or our privacy policies or have any other questions regarding the privacy of your health information, please contact the Chief Privacy Officer, Annette Norton, at 706-660-6377.

To review the entire notice, please click on the link below.

PCR - Joint Notice of Privacy Practices